Chrysalis Chamber Players

Beautiful music!

Emerging stars of South Florida's vibrant concert scene, the Chrysalis Chamber Players sparkle with impeccable technique and energetic musicality.

Co-founder Mary Bowden, an elite trumpeter and featured soloist with classical symphonies around the world, entered college at age 14 and earned a master's at the Yale School of Music.

Boston Brass Quintet

Brash and brassy!

From formal classical arrangements to swinging jazz standards, Boston Brass delights audiences with dazzling musicianship and an entertaining stage presence. Wrote one reviewer, "They played with brash abandon at times, then with feathery gentleness." They have been featured with orchestras worldwide, on a series of successful albums, and on NPR and the CBS early show.

A Chapter Six Christmas

Pitch perfect!

After winning the collegiate a cappella competition for Milliken University, these standout vocalists turned professional and kept on winning: awards, acclaim and concert bookings far and wide. With a repertoire spanning classical to pop, serious to tongue-in-cheek, they're perhaps most at home with the sacred Christian and holiday favorites they'll spotlight for Civic Music.

Manhattan Piano Trio

Classical excellence!

With rave reviews from top critics, a busy recording schedule and regular dates at prestigious venues including Alice Tully Hall and the Ravinia Festival, MPT is among the most in-demand groups in classical music. They're young Americans with a world of talent: Wayne Lee, violinist, is a native of San Francisco; cellist Sæunn Thorsteinsdóttir was born in Reykjavik; and Milana Strezeva, pianist, is originally from Moldova.

Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra

Professional symphony orchestra!

For the tenth consecutive spring, we at Civic Music are proud to close our season with the brilliance and power of the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, a Wisconsin cultural treasure. Under the musical direction of Maestro Edo de Waart, the 68 full-time professionals of the MSO bring the full measure of symphonic beauty to the Green Bay stage.

Professional, classical music!

The Brown County Civic Music Association invites you to experience the electricity of live classical performance the way you like it — fresh, face-to-face and affordable. Our series of five concerts annually offers a rich blend of established stars and rising talent, with return appearances by audience favorites and first-time visits by promising newcomers. (It's been a formula for success ever since the organization's first season, in 1927.)

Same low price!

With grass-roots volunteers, our members see and hear full value in the music as performed at the historic, acoustically superb Ralph Holter Auditorium. Our five-star, five-concert subscription series remains an incredible bargain. For the tenth consecutive year, our full season subscription is only $80 (adult) and $25 (student)! Won't you join us?
