Solid Brass Ensemble

Live from New York!

Double the size of a typical brass quintet, Solid Brass transports listeners on a journey through medieval ceremonial music, John Philip Sousa, Strauss, Bizet, Benny Goodman, the Beach Boys and more. Players are drawn from the New York Philharmonic and Metropolitan Opera orchestras, Broadway shows and major-label studio sessions.

Imani Winds

Classically progressive!

This polished, Grammy-nominated quintet features four woodwinds — flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon — and that most sublime of brass instruments, a French horn. Newly appointed as Ensemble in Residence at the University of Chicago, Imani is known for exuberant musicianship, artistic risk-taking and a rising national profile. Their name means “faith” in Swahili, reflecting African-American and Latin American roots.

Professional symphony orchestra!

For more than a decade, Civic Music has proudly closed its season with the brilliance and power of the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, a Wisconsin cultural treasure and one of this nation’s finest orchestras. Celebrating the traditional and contemporary in always-crowd-pleasing programs, the full-time professionals of the MSO bring the full measure of symphonic beauty to the Green Bay stage.

Live, classical music!

Experience the electricity of live classical performance the way you like it — fresh, face-to-face and affordable. Our series brings both established stars and rising talent from across America and around the world to the Green Bay stage. Programs span the spectrum from intimate solo and small-ensemble concerts to the awesome power of a full symphony orchestra.

Same low price!

With grass-roots volunteers and low overhead, our members see and hear full value in the music as performed at our historic home, Green Bay’s acoustically superb Ralph Holter Auditorium. (A bonus this year is a “road trip” to sample an evening of music at the gleaming new Ashwaubenon Performing Arts Center.) Our five-star, five-concert subscription series remains an incredible bargain. For the eleventh consecutive year, our full season subscription has remained only $80 (adult) and $25 (student)! Won’t you join us?
